AT THE AUDITORIUM.

Today is Animated Weekly day and a new set of subjects will be shown, including Barney Oldfield in auto races, the transport Sherman carrying troops to Honolulu, the youngest licensed chauffeur in the world, and the Methodist Episcopal convention which took place a few weeks ago.
The vaudeville part of the program is headed by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thomas in a very amusing little playlet entitled "The Dog Thel." It contains many good lines and amusing situations which keep the audience in good humor throughout the entire act. Gertrude Davenport, a pretty singer with a very neat wardrobe, introduces several catchy song numbers to the delight of all. The three Sylvesters in a comedy talking novelty are causing much favorable comment. Attacked by a lion in a spectacular motion picture which will be shown today and tomorrow.

BREED THEATER.

A Humble Hero, the intensely dramatic story which is the feature at the Breed today, is told in a simple but vivid and forceful manner, describing the life of a man who holds the attention of all lovers of motion picture drama. The scenes are laid in the west amid desert and plain, mountain and low land, and the life of the unexplored country. How the faithful dog carried his master's discovery ahead of the claim jumpers is told without a common view being made to tell the story. The race by the canine hero is especially attractive and the end is a fitting climax to a well told romance of the west.
In the musical portion of the bill today Miss Marshall, the dainty cellist, will play the most popular selection from "The Pledge," which will insure everyone's being pleased, which her delightful accomplishment is bound to do.

WINDHAM'S NEW PASTOR.

Rev. Maurice R. Plumb Coming from Plymouth, Conn., His First Charge—Engaged to marry Vermont Girl.

Rev. Maurice Raymond Plumb delivered his last sermon in the Plymouth Congregational church Sunday morning. This week he leaves for Windham to become pastor of the Windham Congregational church. Rev. Mr. Plumb accepted the call after having preached there twice. He has done effective work in Plymouth, that being his first pastorate. He went there direct from his graduation from the Yale Divinity school.

The new charge consists of two churches. He will preach mornings in Windham and in the afternoon at South Windham. The Windham church is one of the old Congregational churches of the state. The two churches are somewhat larger than the Plymouth one. There is a good Sunday school in both churches, and a strong Young People's Christian Endeavor society in South Windham. He succeeds in Windham Rev. Harry Grimes, who left April 1 for Braintree, Mass. Mr. Plumb has been interested in boys' work and in his new charge he will have two camps of the Knights of King Arthur to work with. There is also a Y. P. S. C. E. society in Windham. When going to Plymouth his engagement was announced to Miss Emma B. Pachet of Marshallfield, Vt., and early this fall they will be married. She is an accomplished musician.
